

somalia is now a member of a group that helps keep the world safe they won the chance to be in this group in june this is the first time since the 1970s that they have had this important role before somalia had many fights and problems but in 2009 things started to get better now they have a chance to talk about peace and safety around the world